FLOOD HOLDS UP MEAT SUPPLY FOR DISTRICT

Smoked Ham and Sausage Probable Diet for Next Week

PRICES JUMP UPWARD

Pork Loin Quoted at 20 Cents a Pound Wholesale in Pittsburg

The result of the western floods is beginning to be keenly felt in Charleroi today. The meat supply, due from Chicago and other western points has been almost entirely cut off. Meanwhile the price of meat is aeroplaning. With little prospects of getting any meat through from the western markets until sometime next week it is likely that after tomorrow local people will have to take recourse to smoked hams and sausage of which there is a plentiful supply o be had from Pittsburg.

Meat is supplied to a big district by Armour and Co., and the Cudahy Packing Co., through Charleroi. This morning it was stated from both offices that so far as could be learned there would not be any shipments of fresh meat reach Pittsburg or this section until the first of the week. Today's heavy demand will likely exhaust the supply. Meat packers evidently are going to take out of the hides of people what they lose by the flood. Today in Pittsburg pork loin was quoted at 20 cents a pound wholesale and beef at 14. This will in all probility compel the retailers to advance prices.

Charleroi is the distributing point for meat for the eastern markets. No trains have been able to get through. Arrangements are being made today by the railroads to reestablish service but meat men express ltlle hope of getting promptly the supply needed.

WANT POST TO HELP HUNTERS

It is stated that many letters have been mailed to Assemblyman John L. Post from constituents protesting against his attitude on the resident hunter license bill. Assemblyman Post voted against the passage of the bill, notwithstanding the fact, it is claimed, that fully 90 per cent of the citizens of Washington county favor the measure.

While the bill does not include anything relative to that subject it is said by those in position to know that the interests are fighting it because of the fear that the fishermen will ask for more stringent legislation against the pollution of streams and that if this act should become operative those backing it would lend their efforts to aid the followers of the piscatorial sport.

MAN DROWNED IN PARKERSBURG IS KNOWN HERE

Two men were drowned in a flood of the Ohio river at Parkersburg W. Va., Friday and one of them was Samuel Whitlatch, a relative of J. M. Whitlatch and D. C. Whitlatch of Charleroi. He was rowing in front of the Commercial hotel at about 7 o'clock Friday morning when the skiff capsized throwing him into the water. It is thought that in falling out of the skiff his head struck the street, fracturng his skull. His body was recovered one hour later.

Today most villages, towns and cities marooned since the flood the fore part of the week managed to establish communication with the rest of the world nd residents notified their friends outside of their losses.

So far there has been no communication between Charleroi and Dayton although since the first trouble efforts have been made continuously to get news through by telephone and telegraph.

PITTSBURG CHORUS TO BE ASSISTED BY NOTED MUSICIANS

One of the most notable concerts of the year will be given by the famous Mendelssohn Male Choir at Carnegie Music Hall, Pittsburg, Tuesday evening, April 8. David Bisham, the great reader, will render in company with the choir the Greek tragedy, "Antigone." Jean De Backer's famous orchestra will assist and all will be under the idrection of Ernest Lunt, conductor of the choir. Indications point to such a demand for seats that arrangements have been made with the S. Hamilton company, 531 Wood street, Pittsburg to receive orders by mail until the opening of the box office there April 7.

David Bisham's fame as a dramatic reader bids fair to surpass the great record he made as a baritone, and music lovers are awaiting with interest his rendition not only of "Antigone," but "King Robert of Scily" and posibly Poe's "Raven," which is expected as an encore. As a racanteur Mr. Bisham has no equal, and "King Robert of Scily" gives him an opportunity which is perhaps more suited to his personality than almost any other composition of this kind in his repertoire. The diverse moods of the poem, varying from the haughty boast of the King that "No power can thrust him from his throne," to the mad pleading and babblings of the Jester, whose pitable tale no one believes, give Mr. Bisham wide scope for tonal inflections, facial expression and gesture and the nobility which he infuses into the work elevates it far above mere entertainment. The musical accompaniment by Rossiter G.Cole, sensitively blends with the sentiment of the work, and completes a whole, impressive from every point of view.

The Mendelssohn Male Choir has been under rigorous rehearsal for months and in addition the members enjoy the constant drill reuired in church choir work, more than 50 per cent of the members being active in the best church choirs of Pittsburg. It is believed their work at the coming concert April 8 will be the most perfect they have ever given. Jean De Backer's great orchestra needs no introduction to music lovers of Western Pennsylvania.

NOTED DRUMMER APPEARS FRIDAY AT THE COYLE

Albert Lewis who is the drummer of the famous Nirella band in Pittsburg, gave an exhibition of his artistic work at the Coyle Theatre yesterday and last evening. In company Joe Nirella, director and Frak Cerone, manager, Mr. Lewis made a fraternal visit to Manager R. S. Coyle. He brought his drums along and patrons had the pleasure of listening to the artistic work of Mr. Lewis, who is acknowledged to have no peers in his profession. Tonight the Coyle presents "The Crimson Cross," which is the best feature of the week.

WAS BOY AT WORK?

If So, How Long, the Question Bothering Speers People

TO FIND OUT ANYHOW

At a meeting of the Speers school board Thursday night it was voted to investigate a charge that boys from that district under legal age had been working in the Imperial Glass company's bottle factory at Charleroi. It was stated that one boy in particular had been required by his father to work in the factory on the night turn and then go to school next day. It was also decided to notify the state factory inspector and have a hearing next Monday night.

H. J. Booth, secretary and treasurer of the Imperial Glass company, stated this morning that the move was news to him. He said that sometimes when a boy came with a lunch basket and wanted to work on the night turn but had no certificate and was manifestly of the proper age he was permitted to work one night with the express understanding that he bring his certificate next day. If he failed to do this he was not permitted to go to work again. Recently he said a boy came from Speers who was permitted to work one night under those conditions. A member of the school board called the factory up concerning the boy which the factory people made note of, but as the lad never showed up again nothing more was thought about the matter. Mr. Booth said that thus far the school board at Speers had not communicated with him further on the matter.

DROWNED FROM BOAT

The first body to be rescued from the waters at Sharon after the flood there was that of Mrs. W. L. Wilding, formerly Miss Amelia Henrion of Charleroi. Mrs. Wilding's body was found near the Sharon postoffice and taken to an undertaking establishment where identification was made by her husband.

The story was told today in detail of how Mrs. Wilding met her death. With Mrs. W. M. Rosenbaum and child she was taken into a boat from her home in Vine street by George Manning and Peter Miller, two volunteers doing rescue work. While the two men at the oars were battling with the current, Mrs. Wilding became frightened and screamed. She then stood up in the boat. A heavy cable wa stretched across the Shenango river. Mrs. Wilding saw it and tried to sit down. In the gathering darkness of the evening the boat capsized. Everybody but Mrs. Wilding was saved from the stream.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilding have lived in Sharon about four months, moving there from Charleroi where they were married nine months ago. Mrs. Wilding was 21 years old.

Joseph Haube, a brother-in-law and John Henrion, a brother of the drowned women went to Sharon Friday as soon as they learned of the tragedy and will ship home the body today. Arrangements will be made to hold the funeral later.

Kinder the well known florist, has purchased the property of Mrs. Jennie Jolliffe at 608 Fallowfield avenue and is making arrangements to have the building remodeled. The deal for the purchase of the property has just been completed. It will signify an important business venture.

The front of the building will be altered, windows put in after a style most adapted to a flower store and a commodious room arranged for the display of floricultural products. Mr. Kinder is planning to enter actively into the Monongahela valley trade. Miss May Kinder his daughter, is now taking a course in floriculture and display work in a large Philadelphia school and will be at home soon to assist in the work of the store to be opened within a short time.

STATE SHOULD HELP.

As the state health department has already imposed a requirement of the expenditure of $22,000,000 on various towns and cities—Charleroi among the number—for the purpose of constructing sewage disposal plants and is already contemplating the extension of this requirement by $24,000,000 more on other communities, the North bill that has been introduced in the legislature providing that the state pay half of this expense is most timely. In view of this extraordinary requirement by the state it is no more than fair that at least half the expenditure should be borne by the public treasury, inasmuch as the movement would benefit the public at large, as well as the respective communities on which the requirement is imposed.

To a community already overburdened with bond issues for public improvements and groaning under a heavy local taxation, this requirement is exceedingly burdensome. In fact, it will be impossible for some of the communities to comply with the requirements, as it would compel them to exceed the constitutional limit of indebtedness. It is manifestly unfair to tax special communities unduely for the protection of the health of the state at large and not require all taxable interests to bear their just share of the expense. The North bill is an equitable measure and should become a law. It is better for the state to increase the four mill tax on the capital stock of corporations to meet the extra expense than to compel certain communities to tax themselves out of existence for the general good of the public. This is discrimination that is unjust and inequitable.

THE SUFFRAGE RESOLUTION

In a letter to the editor of the Telegraph a correspondent gives several perfectly valid reasons why Senator Beidleman—in fact all Senators—should vote for the resolution which will submit the vexatious question of woman suffrage to the voters of the State in the form of a constitutional amendment, says the Harrisburg Telegraph.

"We agree with this correspondent inso far as the resolution is concerned. It is true that the Republican State convention and the Bull Moose and Progressive parties placed themselves squarely on record as favorable to this resolution and candidates who accepted nominations or endorsements at their hands could hardly justify a refusal to carry out their wishes notwithstanding the fact that the recent activities of the 'antis' and the recent outrages of the suffragettes in England have apparently given a new slant to public opinion.

"Disagreeable as it may be, we see nothing for it but that the woman who are opposed to shouldering for all time to come the obligations of voters shall enter his once into a campaign to defeat the project at the polls.

"Once they have done that, no political party, for many, many years to come at least, would dare to confront them with another such fight. Then, and not until then, suffrage resolutions may properly be voted down in the legislature.

Regardless of the personal opinions of the members of the Pennsylvania senate, we fail to see how they can, in fairness and in honor, refuse to pass this resolution."

An English newspaper correspondent who was in this country through the campaign last fall said that American men spend too much time having their shoes shined. A man who keeps a high priced shoe store agrees with the Englishman. He declares that Americans get their shoes shined to excess.

"No one can make tan shoes that won't crack with all the stuff that is put on them," he said.

"But what are you going to do?" he was asked.

"Go to a harness shop," he replied, "and ask for a cake of saddle soap. Then every night spend three minutes washing your shoes with the soap and a damp rag. They will always have a good lustre and won't crack."

"You can't fight trouble with tears; tears keep trouble just the same as water keeps flowers. The one way to whip trouble is to smile at it and when your face gets tired smiling, sing to it and if you can't sing, whistle. If you weep your heart aches, and if you smile it dances."

This is the sentiment from Jim Whitman, country boy and optimist as played by William Hodge in his new comedy drama, "The Road to Happiness," in which he comes to the Alvin Theatre in Pittsburg next Monday night for an engagement of one week.

This is good everyday philosophy and its observance will tide one over many a rough place in life.

LYBARGER TO LECTURE HERE NEXT TUESDAY

A lecturer who is among the country's best, Lee Francis Lybarger, is to appear at the Methodist Episcopal church next Tuesday, as one of the regular entertainment course attractions. The following press notice has been sent out:

On the western Chautauquas within the past three years Lee Francis Lybarger appeared on the same programs with Congressman Duncan McKinley and Hon. William Jennings Bryan. Both men were in his audience and declared his lecture to be excellent. He spoke on the "Power of the Trusts." Mr. McKinley, of course, is a Republican and Mr. Bryan a Democrat, and yet both were equally enthusiastic in their praise of the merits of his work.

Mr. Lybarger is an orator rather than an entertainer. He has rightly been styled a modern Patrick Henry. He easily holds the rapt attention of vast audiences. He has the magical power of word painting. Above all and as the basis of his work, Mr. Lybarger is the typical "Man of Science."

LEE FRANCIS LYBARGER.

While Mr. Lybarger lectures extensively on such subjects as "Land, Labor and Wealth," "The Tariff" and the "Power of the Trusts," he also has equally interesting lectures on "How Napoleon Won," which is on the psychology of greatness, and on "How to Be Happy," a lecture on the laws of happiness, and other subjects.

GRAVE MARKERS AND MONUMENTS

M. T. Crowley the McKean avenue undertaker is conducting an enterprise as a side issue which adds to the aggregate of Charleroi's small industries. This is the sale and preparation of monuments and grave markers of all descriptions. These are shipped here in a finished state but are lettered and prepared for individual requirements by a corps of skilled cutters which Mr. Crowley employes for the purpose. This week Mr. Crowley received a carload of finished monuments of every description, in order to be prepared to promptly fill orders before Decoration Day. These can be prepared in ample time by the local force of workmen and the consignment is the largest ever brought to Charleroi at one time.

A Talk to Charleroi Mothers About Croup and Cold Troubles

Every mother is the doctor when it comes to treating the annoying little cold troubles that all children are heir to. The only trouble is to know what realy is the best thing to do.

Some mothers keep the children in doors and make them wear chest protectors and heavy flannels. This method deprives the children of the fresh air and exercise they need and the heavy clothing keeps the pores of the skin open and really makes them catch cold more easily.

A few mothers neglect these troubles entirely and these often lead in after life to chronic catarrh, weakened lungs, etc.

Most mothers keep on hand a formidable array of bottles and are usually dosing one or more of the children. This method is probably worse than the others as most cough medicines contain alcohol and some form of opium and are very injurious to the delicate stomachs of the little folks.

After all, colds are simply inflammations of the lining of the air passages just like sunburn and mosquito bites are inflammation of the skin. We don't dose the stomach to cure sunburn, but we have had to dose the stomach for colds because there has been no way of applying a direct application to the air passages, except in the form of vapors. And while the old vapor lamps gave out the needed vapors they required the room to be kept closed and hence kept out the all important fresh air.

Pine tar from the south, menthol from Japan, camphor from the Isle of Formosa and the oils of Thymol, eucalyptol, cubeb and juniper, are recognized as the best remedies for cold troubles. Druggists the world over have been seeking some cheap, convenient method of vaporizing these products without having to use the cumbersome vapor lamp.

A druggist in North Carolina discovered how to combine these products in a salve by a special process so that they were vaporized by the heat of the body when applied over the throat and chest. This patented process is the only secret about this new treatment which is known as Vicks Croup and Pneumonia Salve.

Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and a little Vicks used occassionally will keep the children from cold troubles no matter how much they are exposed. Croup really is relieved in 15 minutes. For all inflammations of the air passages such as catarrh, bronchitis, tonsilitis, asthma, etc., this new treatment will be found remarkably successful. Simply apply Vicks well over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth Leave the covering loose around the neck so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

The Charleroi drug stores in Charleroi are now agencies for the sale of this preparation and are giving with each sale a refund slip that is good for your money back if Vicks is not found to be far better than internal medicines.

Vicks comes in three sizes—25c, 50c and $1.00. The price is never cut.

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI.

With a strong and well balanced program for the whole week of the best motion pictures and dramas of the Universal Circuuit, Manager R. S. Coyle has reserved his greatest feature for Saturday. This is the first release of the Eclair company's special features. "The Crimson Cross," an offering quite out of the ordinary in many ways. The picture is in three reels, the first of which shows a Puritan home in New England in the early days of the nation. A Spanish ship comes there to trade. The captain, who is a Catholic, falls in love with the daughter, but the difference in their creeds seems to be a barrier. The captain explains to his sweetheart what the rosary is with its fifteen mysteries, and the next scenes show the religious significance of the meaning. The final scene shows a fight between the crew of the ship and the Puritans, in which the captain is slain, but he dies comforted by his rosary, while the Puritan forgives his daughter for her love. Among the strong dramas of the week were "The Law of Compensation," "A Counterfeit Courtship," "The Man Who Dared," a two reel Eclaire, "A Red Girl's Sacrifice," "The Bum's Hallowe'en," "His Brother," a two reel Bison. As a companion feature for the "The Crimson Cross" Saturday Manager Coyle has secured "The Sins of His Father," in two parts.

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI.

One of the finest offerings in vaudeville yet presented at the Palace Theatre is by Helene Hardy, who opened the bill at the Palace this week in "Great Women of the Past and Present," conisstting of a number of character changes, the changes of costume for each impersonation being made in full view of the audience. The characterizations given are out of the ordinary and consist of Lillian Russell, in her famous race scene speech from "Wildfire;" then an address on woman's rights to an afternoon sewing club; then Queen Elizabeth, just before she signs the death warrant for the execution of Mary Queen of Scots; then Mary Queen of Scots, her farewell speech just before she is executed; then Martha Washington, in one of the only two speeches on record as having been uttered by this grand old lady. The last character is an impersonation of Mollie Pitcher, who was the wife of a continental soldier who upon seeing her husband killed while in the act of firing a cannon rushes to the rescue and finishes the battle as a gunner, for which bravery she was commissioned sergeant in the continental army by General Washington. Miss Hardy's act gives great scope for costuming, all gowns worn in the impersonation of past celebrities being historically correct, and the modern gowns worn are elaborate in the extreme. Gates and Gates give a clever little comedy sketch, where a neglected wife turns the tables on her husband by going out and having a gay time while he is entertaining his stenographer—that is, he dreams it Maude Stone, the singing and dancing soubrette, is clever and entertaining, and all through the bill is exceedingly attractive and made a great hit. There's a matinee Saturday and the pictures are changed daily, with the Pathe Weekly Friday.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

One of the most realistic civil war dramas ever shown in moving pictures was a two reel Kay Bee at the Star Theatre this week. This was "When Lincoln Paid." The story opens when Lincoln was a country lawyer riding the circuit. He is caught in a storm and seeks shelter at a farm house. He stays for dinner and on offering to pay is refused by the hostess. As a joke Lincoln gives her an I O U for "one good meal," which he offers to redeem at any time. Years after, when he is president and the civil war comes on the woman's son enlists, is captured and shot as a spy. While under sentence of death his mother gets to him and begs his life, which is refused by the confederate general and the boy is shot before the eyes of his mother. Later the fortunes of war results in the capture of the rebel general's son, through the aid of the northern woman, who, too, is condemned to death. The woman at first rejoices in the revenge, but relents, and presents her I O U to Lincoln who saves the rebel youth's life. "A Race for Millions" in three reels was another big feature of the week, while two Mutual Weeklies, one on Monday and one Friday were shown. In Saturday's bill is included "The Strike Leader," in two reels, "Tom, Dick and Harry on the Job," and "Just Kids."

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

The name of Gus Edwards is a synonym for polite, high class divertisement in vaudeville and hence it is a matter of especial interest to Pittsburgers that for one week, beginning next Monday afternoon, March 31. They will present the popular composer's latest and most attractive minature musical comedy, "A Kid Kabaret in Kidland." It is a merry medley of songs, dances and witty conversation introducing such precocious ones as Eddie Cantor and Geo. Jessel and featuring Ruth Francis Evelyn McVay and Betty Washington. There are eleven distinctive Edwards compositions in the melange of music. George Jessel, a nine year old comedian, who is a born mimic, will give a lifelike representation of David Warfield; Ruth Francis, a sweet faced little blushing girl, will accentuate the eccentricities of Raymond Hitchcock, while Eddie Cantor personates the blackface comedian, Al Johnson.

Mr. Davis also announces the engagement of many other attractions for the forthcoming week, including the statuesque prima donna of musical comedy and opera, Truly Shattuck, who is to sing a group of songs both old and new; George Whiting the light comedian, and Sadie Burt, whose unique divertisement is entitled "Song Sayings," and who will be accompanied at the piano by Chris Schoenberg; Andrew F. Kelley, known as "Casey, the Lion," a monologist; Caron and Herbert, the acrobatic clowns; Luke Wilson, the horizontal bar performer and sundry other artists of quality and versatility. Mr. Davis has secured a list of attractive subjects for the fourth week of the talking motion pictures, and these promise to delight Grand patrons again, as have those which preceded them.

THE ALVIN—PITTSBURG.

"The Road to Happiness" is the title of the new play chosen by William Hodge as the successor to "The Man From Home" in which he has been starring for the past six years, and in which he will appear at the Alvin Theatre during the week beginning Monday, March 31. Mr. Hodge's great success in his previous play made it difficult for him to relinquish the role of Daniel Voorhees Pike, but his earnest wish to vary his work and to meet his audiences in a new role led him to seek a new vehicle. "The Road to Happiness" as the drama best calculated to gain the approval of his audiences. It is a comedy-drama with an appealing story of life in a village community. The central figure, that of Jim Whitman, played by Mr. Hodge, is a country boy of high ideals, devoted to an invalid mother and the possessor of a cherry optimism that finds the silver lining to every cloud. In the development of the story many quaint and lovable characters are engaged and there are also some that make the contrast by their narrowness and hypocrisy. Humor is present at nearly every turn but there are touches of pathos and seriousness that nicely balance the lights and shades of every day life. In presenting the play Mr. Hodge will have the aid of a large company which he himself has brought together.

For the benefit of the many out of town admirers of Mr. Hodge and his work the Alvin Theatre management is making special arrangements in the matter of assuring choice locations for those who apply by letter with check or money order enclosed. A block of the most desirable seats for each performance has been set aside for this purpose and will be held in reserve especially for out of town applicants.

THE DUQUESNE—PITTSBURG

The Harry Davis Stock Players will present for the first time in stock at the Duquesne Theatre, next week, James Forbes' highly amusing and successful comedy of life behind the scenes, "The Chorus Lady.' 'in which Rose Stahl starred for six consecutive seasons. The central character of "The Chorus Lady" is Patricia O'Brien, an interesting product of the highways and byways, who enlists in the chorus of a musical show, and is finally assigned to one of the leading roles. She has a younger sister, enamored of the glamor of the footlights and who, like her older sister makes a beginning in the chorus. Patricia straightway appoints herself a committee of one to guard her younger sister from the temptations and pitfalls that beset her own rocky road to fame and fortune. This sister, however, soon gets into trouble, and becomes involved in an affair de coeur with a wealthy habitus of the race-track, whom Patricia waylays and openly threatens to destroy. Her modus operandi in unmasking and putting him to rout forms the basis of the play. Not only will this be the first presentation in Pittsburg of the comedy at popular prices, but also because the play will furnish Miss Lilliam Kemble an exceptional opportunity to reveal her talents as a comedienne in the role created by Rose Stahl.

Thousands of Women

There is no doubt about this fact. Why? during the last 30 years we have published in the newspapers of this country volumes of letters from women who have been relieved of all their suffering by the timely aid of this grand old medicine. Letters like the following, true, genuine and honest expressions of gratitude coming from grateful hearts. Surely you can believe these women.

Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Mich., says:—

"Sometime ago I was taken with a terrible pain in my right side, such sharp pains just like a knife sticking me. I tried hot applications but that did no good. I went to our family doctor (we were living in Fayette, Ohio, at that time) and he said it was organic inflammation. I doctored with him a while but kept getting worse. The pain was so terrible I could hardly stand on my feet. I would have that sharp pain in my right side, and a dull heavy pain the whole length of my limb. I realized that something had to be done quickly, so I looked up all of your advertisements I could find, and saw several that described my case. I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the first dose, and when I had taken two bottles my trouble was gone. Your medicine has done so much for me that I am willing you should publish this letter for the sake of other suffering women."—Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Michigan.

Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, Girard, Pa., says:—

"I take pleasure in informing you of what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had a sick spell last February, and for some months after that I was not regular and had many bad feelings. I was tired all the time, had dull headaches, not much appetite, and also what the doctor called organic inflammation. Your Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me and I feel that too much cannot be said in its praise as I am now able to do my own work. You are perfectly welcome to use my testimonial for the benefit of others."—Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, R.F.D. No. 1, Girard, Pa.

Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, Buffalo, N.Y., says:—

"I feel that I must write to you about your wonderful remedies. About ten years ago I was troubled with female weakness and was all run down. I was tired all the time and could hardly walk without feeling dizzy. I heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it, and also used the Sanative Wash. I got stronger, and have not had those dizzy spells since. I feel that I owe my health to you, and hope your remedies will help others as they have me. I tried most everything I heard of, and yours are the best medicines for women's ailments."—Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, 26 Glor Street, Buffalo, New York.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

I formerly used an advertising wagon to cover my territory (two horses and a wagon). My territory is the state of West Virginia, one county in Ohio, three counties in Maryland, six counties in Virginia and eight counties in Pennsylvania.

For the past year I have been using the Ford Model T, which does the work for better and gives me more time for my active work. I am now using my second Ford Model T Runabout which in my estimation is the best car made for the money. No one uses a car more or harder than I do.

FLOOD HOLDS UP MEAT SUPPLY FOR DISTRICT

Smoked Ham and Sausage Probable Diet for Next Week

PRICES JUMP UPWARD

The result of the western floods is beginning to be keenly felt in Charleroi today. The meat supply, due from Chicago and other western points has been almost entirely cut off. Meanwhile the price of meat is aeroplaning. With little prospects of getting any meat through from the western markets until sometime next week it is likely that after tomorrow local people will have to take recourse to smoked hams and sausage of which there is a plentiful supply o be had from Pittsburg.

Meat is supplied to a big district by Armour and Co., and the Cudahy Packing Co., through Charleroi. This morning it was stated from both offices that so far as could be learned there would not be any shipments of fresh meat reach Pittsburg or this section until the first of the week. Today's heavy demand will likely exhaust the supply. Meat packers evidently are going to take out of the hides of people what they lose by the flood. Today in Pittsburg pork loin was quoted at 20 cents a pound wholesale and beef at 14. This will in all probility compel the retailers to advance prices.

Charleroi is the distributing point for meat for the eastern markets. No trains have been able to get through. Arrangements are being made today by the railroads to reestablish service but meat men express little hope of getting promptly the supply needed.

WANT POST TO HELP HUNTERS

It is stated that many letters have been mailed to Assemblyman John L. Post from constituents protesting against his attitude on the resident hunter license bill. Assemblyman Post voted against the passage of the bill, notwithstanding the fact, it is claimed, that fully 90 per cent of the citizens of Washington county favor the measure.

While the bill does not include anything relative to that subject it is said by those in position to know that the interests are fighting it because of the fear that the fishermen will ask for more stringent legislation against the pollution of streams and that if this act should become operative those backing it would lend their efforts to aid the followers of the piscatorial sport.

MAN DROWNED IN PARKERSBURG IS KNOWN HERE

Two men were drowned in a flood of the Ohio river at Parkersburg W. Va., Friday and one of them was Samuel Whitlatch, a relative of J. M. Whitlatch and D. C. Whitlatch of Charleroi. He was rowing in front of the Commercial hotel at about 7 o'clock Friday morning when the skiff capsized throwing him into the water. It is thought that in falling out of the skiff his head struck the street, fracturing his skull. His body was recovered one hour later.

Today most villages, towns and cities marooned since the flood the fore part of the week managed to establish communication with the rest of the world nd residents notified their friends outside of their losses.

So far there has been no communication between Charleroi and Dayton although since the first trouble efforts have been made continuously to get news through by telephone and telegraph.

PITTSBURG CHORUS TO BE ASSISTED BY NOTED MUSICIANS

One of the most notable concerts of the year will be given by the famous Mendelssohn Male Choir at Carnegie Music Hall, Pittsburg, Tuesday evening, April 8. David Bisham, the great reader, will render in company with the choir the Greek tragedy, "Antigone." Jean De Backer's famous orchestra will assist and all will be under the idrection of Ernest Lunt, conductor of the choir. Indications point to such a demand for seats that arrangements have been made with the S. Hamilton company, 531 Wood street, Pittsburg to receive orders by mail until the opening of the box office there April 7.

David Bisham's fame as a dramatic reader bids fair to surpass the great record he made as a baritone, and music lovers are awaiting with interest his rendition not only of "Antigone," but "King Robert of Scily" and posibly Poe's "Raven," which is expected as an encore. As a racanteur Mr. Bisham has no equal, and "King Robert of Scily" gives him an opportunity which is perhaps more suited to his personality than almost any other composition of this kind in his repertoire. The diverse moods of the poem, varying from the haughty boast of the King that "No power can thrust him from his throne," to the mad pleading and babblings of the Jester, whose pitable tale no one believes, give Mr. Bisham wide scope for tonal inflections, facial expression and gesture and the nobility which he infuses into the work elevates it far above mere entertainment. The musical accompaniment by Rossiter G.Cole, sensitively blends with the sentiment of the work, and completes a whole, impressive from every point of view.

The Mendelssohn Male Choir has been under rigorous rehearsal for months and in addition the members enjoy the constant drill reuired in church choir work, more than 50 per cent of the members being active in the best church choirs of Pittsburg. It is believed their work at the coming concert April 8 will be the most perfect they have ever given. Jean De Backer's great orchestra needs no introduction to music lovers of Western Pennsylvania.

NOTED DRUMMER APPEARS FRIDAY AT THE COYLE

Albert Lewis who is the drummer of the famous Nirella band in Pittsburg, gave an exhibition of his artistic work at the Coyle Theatre yesterday and last evening. In company Joe Nirella, director and Frak Cerone, manager, Mr. Lewis made a fraternal visit to Manager R. S. Coyle. He brought his drums along and patrons had the pleasure of listening to the artistic work of Mr. Lewis, who is acknowledged to have no peers in his profession. Tonight the Coyle presents "The Crimson Cross," which is the best feature of the week.

WAS BOY AT WORK?

If So, How Long, the Question Bothering Speers People

TO FIND OUT ANYHOW

At a meeting of the Speers school board Thursday night it was voted to investigate a charge that boys from that district under legal age had been working in the Imperial Glass company's bottle factory at Charleroi. It was stated that one boy in particular had been required by his father to work in the factory on the night turn and then go to school next day. It was also decided to notify the state factory inspector and have a hearing next Monday night.

H. J. Booth, secretary and treasurer of the Imperial Glass company, stated this morning that the move was news to him. He said that sometimes when a boy came with a lunch basket and wanted to work on the night turn but had no certificate and was manifestly of the proper age he was permitted to work one night with the express understanding that he bring his certificate next day. If he failed to do this he was not permitted to go to work again. Recently he said a boy came from Speers who was permitted to work one night under those conditions. A member of the school board called the factory up concerning the boy which the factory people made note of, but as the lad never showed up again nothing more was thought about the matter. Mr. Booth said that thus far the school board at Speers had not communicated with him further on the matter.

DROWNED FROM BOAT

The first body to be rescued from the waters at Sharon after the flood there was that of Mrs. W. L. Wilding, formerly Miss Amelia Henrion of Charleroi. Mrs. Wilding's body was found near the Sharon postoffice and taken to an undertaking establishment where identification was made by her husband.

The story was told today in detail of how Mrs. Wilding met her death. With Mrs. W. M. Rosenbaum and child she was taken into a boat from her home in Vine street by George Manning and Peter Miller, two volunteers doing rescue work. While the two men at the oars were battling with the current, Mrs. Wilding became frightened and screamed. She then stood up in the boat. A heavy cable wa stretched across the Shenango river. Mrs. Wilding saw it and tried to sit down. In the gathering darkness of the evening the boat capsized. Everybody but Mrs. Wilding was saved from the stream.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilding have lived in Sharon about four months, moving there from Charleroi where they were married nine months ago. Mrs. Wilding was 21 years old.

Joseph Haube, a brother-in-law and John Henrion, a brother of the drowned women went to Sharon Friday as soon as they learned of the tragedy and will ship home the body today. Arrangements will be made to hold the funeral later.

STATE SHOULD HELP.

As the state health department has already imposed a requirement of the expenditure of $22,000,000 on various towns and cities—Charleroi among the number—for the purpose of constructing sewage disposal plants and is already contemplating the extension of this requirement by $24,000,000 more on other communities, the North bill that has been introduced in the legislature providing that the state pay half of this expense is most timely. In view of this extraordinary requirement by the state it is no more than fair that at least half the expenditure should be borne by the public treasury, inasmuch as the movement would benefit the public at large, as well as the respective communities on which the requirement is imposed.

To a community already overburdened with bond issues for public improvements and groaning under a heavy local taxation, this requirement is exceedingly burdensome. In fact, it will be impossible for some of the communities to comply with the requirements, as it would compel them to exceed the constitutional limit of indebtedness. It is manifestly unfair to tax special communities unduely for the protection of the health of the state at large and not require all taxable interests to bear their just share of the expense. The North bill is an equitable measure and should become a law. It is better for the state to increase the four mill tax on the capital stock of corporations to meet the extra expense than to compel certain communities to tax themselves out of existence for the general good of the public. This is discrimination that is unjust and inequitable.

THE SUFFRAGE RESOLUTION

In a letter to the editor of the Telegraph a correspondent gives several perfectly valid reasons why Senator Beidleman—in fact all Senators—should vote for the resolution which will submit the vexatious question of woman suffrage to the voters of the State in the form of a constitutional amendment, says the Harrisburg Telegraph.

"We agree with this correspondent [illegible] as the resolution [illegible] cerned. It is true that the Republican State convention and the Bull Moose and Progressive parties placed themselves squarely on record as favorable to this resolution and candidates who accepted nominations or endorsements at their hands could hardly justify a refusal to carry out their wishes notwithstanding the fact that the recent activities of the 'antis' and the recent outrages of the suffragettes in England have apparently given a new slant to public opinion.

"Disagreeable as it may be, we see nothing for it but that the woman who are opposed to shouldering for all time to come the obligations of voters shall enter his once into a campaign to defeat the project at the polls.

"Once they have done that, no po[illegible] to come at least, would dare to confront them with another such fight. Then, and not until then, suffrage resolutions may properly be voted down in the legislature.

Regardless of the personal opinions of the members of the Pennsylvania senate, we fail to see how they can, in fairness and in honor, refuse to pass this resolution."

An English newspaper correspondent who was in this country through the campaign last fall said that American men spend too much time having their shoes shined. A man who keeps a high priced shoe store agrees with the Englishman. He declares that Americans get their shoes shined to excess.

"No one can make tan shoes that won't crack with all the stuff that is put on them," he said.

"But what are you going to do?" he was asked.

"Go to a harness shop," he replied, "and ask for a cake of saddle soap. Then every night spend three minutes washing your shoes with the soap and a damp rag. They will always have a good lustre and won't crack."

"You can't fight trouble with tears; tears keep trouble just the same as water keeps flowers. The one way to whip trouble is to smile at it and when your face gets tired smiling, sing to it and if you can't sing, whistle. If you weep your heart aches, and if you smile it dances."

This is the sentiment from Jim Whitman, country boy and optimist as played by William Hodge in his new comedy drama, "The Road to Happiness," in which he comes to the Alvin Theatre in Pittsburg next Monday night for an engagement of one week.

This is good everyday philosophy and its observance will tide one over many a rough place in life.

LYBARGER TO LECTURE HERE NEXT TUESDAY

A lecturer who is among the country's best, Lee Francis Lybarger, is to appear at the Methodist Episcopal church next Tuesday, as one of the regular entertainment course attractions. The following press notice has been sent out:

On the western Chautauquas within the past three years Lee Francis Lybarger appeared on the same programs with Congressman Duncan McKinley and Hon. William Jennings Bryan. Both men were in his audience and declared his lecture to be excellent. He spoke on the "Power of the Trusts." Mr. McKinley, of course, is a Republican and Mr. Bryan a Democrat, and yet both were equally enthusiastic in their praise of the merits of his work.

Mr. Lybarger is an orator rather than an entertainer. He has rightly been styled a modern Patrick Henry. He easily holds the rapt attention of vast audiences. He has the magical power of word painting. Above all and as the basis of his work, Mr. Lybarger is the typical "Man of Science."

While Mr. Lybarger lectures extensively on such subjects as "Land, Labor and Wealth," "The Tariff" and the "Power of the Trusts," he also has equally interesting lectures on "How Napoleon Won," which is on the psychology of greatness, and on "How to Be Happy," a lecture on the laws of happiness, and other subjects.

A Talk to Charleroi Mothers

About Croup and Cold Troubles

Every mother is the doctor when it comes to treating the annoying little cold troubles that all children are heir to. The only trouble is to know what realy is the best thing to do.

Some mothers keep the children in doors and make them wear chest protectors and heavy flannels. This method deprives the children of the fresh air and exercise they need and the heavy clothing keeps the pores of the skin open and really makes them catch cold more easily.

A few mothers neglect these troubles entirely and these often lead in after life to chronic catarrh, weakened lungs, etc.

Most mothers keep on hand a formidable array of bottles and are usually dosing one or more of the children. This method is probably worse than the others as most cough medicines contain alcohol and some form of opium and are very injurious to the delicate stomachs of the little folks.

After all, colds are simply inflammations of the lining of the air passages just like sunburn and mosquito bites are inflammation of the skin. We don't dose the stomach to cure sunburn, but we have had to dose the stomach for colds because there has been no way of applying a direct application to the air passages, except in the form of vapors. And while the old vapor lamps gave out the needed vapors they required the room to be kept closed and hence kept out the all important fresh air.

Pine tar from the south, menthol from Japan, camphor from the Isle of Formosa and the oils of Thymol, eucalyptol, cubeb and juniper, are recognized as the best remedies for cold troubles. Druggists the world over have been seeking some cheap, convenient method of vaporizing these products without having to use the cumbersome vapor lamp.

A druggist in North Carolina discovered how to combine these products in a salve by a special process so that they were vaporized by the heat of the body when applied over the throat and chest. This patented process is the only secret about this new treatment which is known as Vicks Croup and Pneumonia Salve.

Plenty of fresh air in the bedroom and a little Vicks used occassionally will keep the children from cold troubles no matter how much they are exposed. Croup really is relieved in 15 minutes. For all inflammations of the air passages such as catarrh, bronchitis, tonsilitis, asthma, etc., this new treatment will be found remarkably successful. Simply apply Vicks well over throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth Leave the covering loose around the neck so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

The Charleroi drug stores in Charleroi are now agencies for the sa[illegible] of this preparation and are giv[illegible] with each sale a refund[illegible] slip that good for your money back if Vi[illegible] is not found to be far better than [illegible] ternal medicines.

THE COYLE—CHARLEROI.

With a strong and well balanced program for the whole week of the best motion pictures and dramas of the Universal Circuit, Manager R. S. Coyle has reserved his greatest feature for Saturday. This is the first release of the Eclair company's special features, "The Crimson Cross," an offering quite out of the ordinary in many ways. The picture is in three reels, the first of which shows a Puritan home in New England in the early days of the nation. A Spanish ship comes there to trade. The captain, who is a Catholic, falls in love with the daughter, but the difference in their creeds seems to be a barrier. The captain explains to his sweetheart what the rosary is with its fifteen mysteries. [illegible] gious significance of the meaning. The final scene shows a fight between the crew of the ship and the Puritans, in which the captain is slain, but he dies comforted by his rosary, while the Puritan forgives his daughter for her love. Among the strong dramas of the week were "The Law of Compensation," "A Counterfeit Courtship," "The Man Who Dared," a two reel Eclaire, "A Red Girl's Sacrifice," "The Bum's Hallowe'en," "His Brother," a two reel Bison. As a companion feature for the "The Crimson Cross" Saturday Manager Coyle has secured "The Sins of His Father," in two parts.

THE PALACE—CHARLEROI.

One of the finest offerings in vaudeville yet presented at the Palace Theatre is by Helene Hardy, who opened the bill at the Palace this week in "Great Women of the Past and Present," conisstting of a number of character changes, the changes of costume for each impersonation being made in full view of the audience. The characterizations given are out of the ordinary and consist of Lillian Russell, in her famous race scene speech from "Wildfire;" then an address on woman's rights to an afternoon sewing club; then Queen Elizabeth, just before she signs the death warrant for the execution of Mary Queen of Scots; then Mary Queen of Scots, her farewell speech just before she is executed; then Martha Washington, in one of the only two speeches on record as having been uttered by this grand old lady. The last character is an impersonation of Mollie Pitcher, who was the wife of a continental soldier who upon seeing her husband killed while in the act of firing a cannon rushes to the rescue and finishes the battle as a gunner, for which bravery she was commissioned sergeant in the continental army by General Washington. Miss Hardy's act gives great scope for costuming, all gowns worn in the impersonation of past celebrities being historically correct, and the modern gowns worn are elaborate in the extreme. Gates and Gates give a clever little comedy sketch, where a neglected wife turns the tables on her husband by going out and having a gay time while he is entertaining his stenographer—that is, he dreams it. Mande Stone, the singing and dancing soubrette, is clever and entertaining, and all through the bill is exceedingly attractive and made a great hit. There's a matinee Saturday and the pictures are changed daily, with the Pathe Weekly Friday.

THE STAR—CHARLEROI.

One of the most realistic civil war dramas ever shown in moving pictures was a two reel Kay Bee at the Star Theatre this week. This was "When Lincoln Paid." The story opens when Lincoln was a country lawyer riding the circuit. He is caught in a storm and seeks shelter at a farm house. He stays for dinner and on offering to pay is refused by the hostess. As a joke Lincoln gives her an I O U for "one good meal," which he offers to redeem at any time. Years after, when he is president and the civil war comes on the woman's son enlists, is captured and shot as a spy. While under sentence of death his mother gets to him and begs his life, which is refused by the confederate general and the boy is shot before the eyes of his mother. Later the fortunes of war results in the capture of the rebel general's son, through the aid of the northern woman, who, too, is condemned to death. The woman at first rejoices in the revenge, but relents, and presents her I O U to Lincoln who saves the rebel youth's life. "A Race for Millions" in three reels was another big feature of the week, while two Mutual Weeklies, one on Monday and one Friday were shown. In Saturday's bill is included "The Strike Leader," in two reels, "Tom, Dick and Harry on the Job," and "Just Kids."

THE GRAND—PITTSBURG.

The name of Gus Edwards is a synonym for polite, high class divertisement in vaudeville and hence it is a matter of especial interest to Pittsburgers that for one week, beginning next Monday afternoon, March 31. They will present the popular composer's latest and most attractive minature musical comedy, "A Kid Kabaret in Kidland." It is a merry medley of songs, dances and witty conversation introducing such precocious ones as Eddie Cantor and Geo. Jessel and featuring Ruth Francis Evelyn McVay and Betty Washington. There are eleven distinctive Edwards compositions in the melange of music. George Jessel, a nine year old comedian, who is a born mimic, will give a lifelike representation of David Warfield; Ruth Francis, a sweet faced little blushing girl, will accentuate the eccentricities of Raymond Hitchcock, while Eddie Cantor personates the blackface comedian, Al Johnson.

Mr. Davis also announces the engagement of many other attractions for the forthcoming week, including the statuesque prima donna of musical comedy and opera, Truly Shattuck, who is to sing a group of songs both old and new; George Whiting the light comedian, and Sadie Burt, whose unique divertisement is entitled "Song Sayings," and who will be accompanied at the piano by Chris Schoenberg; Andrew F. Kelley, known as "Casey, the Lion," a monologist; Caron and Herbert, the acrobatic clowns; Luke Wilson, the horizontal bar performer and sundry other artists of quality and versatility. Mr. Davis has secured a list of attractive subjects for the fourth week of the talking motion pictures, and these promise to delight Grand patrons again, as have those which preceded them.

THE ALVIN—PITTSBURG.

"The Road to Happiness" is the title of the new play chosen by Wil- liam Hodge as the successor to "The Man From Home" in which he has been starring for the past six years, and in which he will appear at the Alvin Theatre during the week beginning Monday, March 31. Mr. Hodge's great success in his previous play made it difficult for him to relinquish the role of Daniel Voorhess Pike, but his earnest wish to vary his work and to meet his audiences in a new role led him to seek a new vehicle, "The Road to Happiness" as the drama best calculated to gain the approval of his audiences. It is a comedy-drama with an appealing story of life in a village community. The central figure, that of Jim Whitman, played by Mr. Hodge, is a country boy of high ideals, devoted to an invalid mother and the possessor of a cherry optimism that finds the silver lining to every cloud. In the development of the story many quaint and lovable characters are engaged and there are also some that make the contrast by their narrowness and hypocrisy. Humor is present at nearly every turn but there are touches of pathos and seriousness that nicely balance the lights and shades of every day life. In presenting the play Mr. Hodge will have the aid of a large company which he himself has brought together.

For the benefit of the many out of town admirers of Mr. Hodge and his work the Alvin Theatre management is making special arrangements in the matter of assuring choice locations for those who apply by letter with check or money order enclosed. A block of the most desirable seats for each performance has been set aside for this purpose and will be held in reserve especially for out of town applicants.

THE DUQUESNE—PITTSBURG

The Harry Davis Stock Players will present for the first time in stock at the Duquesne Theatre, next week, James Forbes' highly amusing and successful comedy of life behind the scenes, "The Chorus Lady," in which Rose Stahl starred for six consecutive seasons. The central character of "The Chorus Lady" is Patricia O'Brien, an interesting product of the highways and byways, who enlists in the chorus of a musical show, and is finally assigned to one of the leading roles. She has a younger sister, enamored of the glamor of the footlights and who, like her older sister makes a beginning in the chorus. Patricia straightway appoints herself a committee of one to guard her younger sister from the temptations and pitfalls that beset her own rocky road to fame and fortune. This sister, however, soon gets into trouble, and becomes involved in an affair de coeur with a wealthy habitus of the race-track, whom Patricia waylays and openly threatens to destroy. Her modus operandi in unmasking and putting him to rout forms the basis of the play. Not only will it be the first presentation in Pittsburg of the comedy at popular prices, but also because the play will furnish Miss Lilliam Kemble an exceptional opportunity to reveal her talents as a comedienne in the role created by Rose Stahl.

Thousands of Women

There is no doubt about this fact. Why: during the last 30 years we have published in the newspapers of this country volumes of letters from women who have been relieved of all their suffering by the timely aid of this grand old medicine. Letters like the following, true, genuine and honest expressions of gratitude coming from grateful hearts. Surely you can believe these women.

Mrs. L. S. BRENNER, Hudson, Mich., says:—

"Sometime ago I was taken with a terrible pain in my right side, such sharp pains just like a knife sticking me. I tried hot applications but that did no good. I went to our family doctor (we were living in Fayette, Ohio, at that time) and he said it was organic inflammation. I doctored with him a while but kept getting worse. The pain was so terrible I could hardly stand on my feet. I would have that sharp pain in my right side, and a dull heavy pain the whole length of my limb. I realized that something had to be done quickly, so I looked up all of your advertisements I could find, and saw several that described my case. I got a bottle of Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the first dose, and when I had taken two bottles my trouble was gone. Your medicine has done so much for me that I am willing you should publish this letter for the sake of other suffering women"—Mrs. L S BRENNER, Hudson, Michigan.

Mrs. L. E. BOWERS, Girard, Pa., says:—

"I take pleasure in informing you of what Lydia E Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had a sick spell last February, and for some months after that I was not regular and had many bad feelings. I was tired all the time, had dull headaches, not much appetite, and also what the doctor called organic inflammation. Your Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me and I feel that too much cannot be said in its praise as I am now able to do my own work. You are perfectly welcome to use my testimonial for the benefit of others"—Mrs. L. E BOWERS, R.F.D. No. 1, Girard, Pa.

Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, Buffalo, N.Y., says:—

"I feel that I must write to you about your wonderful remedies. About ten years ago I was troubled with female weakness and was all run down. I was tired all the time and could hardly walk without feeling dizzy. I heard about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, took it and also used the Sanative Wash. I got stronger, and have not had those dizzy spells since. I feel that I owe my health to you, and hope your remedies will help others as they have me. I tried most everything I heard of, and yours are the best medicines for women's ailments.—Mrs. ELIZABETH GENTILCORE, 26 Glor Street, Buffalo, New York.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

For the past year I have been using the Ford Model T. which does the work for better and gives me more time for my active work. I am now using my second Ford Model T Runabout which in my estimation is the best car made for the money. No one uses a car more or harder than I do.
